

VOLUNTEER

As a member of the Association, you may also want to become a volunteer at the museum. Our goal with volunteers is to match your interests with the museum's needs. We want you to find the right opportunity to help, when and where you can. Here are just a few examples:

- Tour Guide and Docent
- Exhibit Engager
- Special Events Staff
- School Group Host
- Greeter
- Museum Store Helper
- Office Assistant
- Landscaper
- and more

If you would like more information about volunteering at the Armstrong Air & Space Museum Association, please contact us at experience@armstrongmuseum.org or call (800) 860-0142.

The Armstrong Air & Space Museum shares the story of Neil Armstrong and all Ohioans who have defied gravity. It hosts visitors from throughout the world.

The museum's commitment to education touches thousands of school-age children each year and providing lifelong learning opportunities for individuals and families.

The Armstrong Air & Space Museum Association was established in 2009 as a not-for-profit organization to provide local management of the museum. Working together, the Association and Ohio History Connection are improving public access and services at the museum. The visitor experience has been enhanced and museum operations are being expanded.

This is an exciting new opportunity for the museum and those of us who value its importance to Ohio and the nation. As private citizens we can invest our time and money in the important work to preserve the legacy of America's aerospace accomplishments.

Your participation and support will help us preserve the museum and share its story with future generations.

The Armstrong Family sole compensation is to hear stories of how others contribution to the space program.
